OBVIOUS OLIVER.

"Talk about a Mexican revolution," said Obvious Oliver, in talking to his friend, the pessimist, yesterday, of his experiences while hunting quail on Sunday, "why, the little brother to the south of the border would have thought that Carranza, Villa, Zapata and all of their forty seven generals had been turned loose in the same bull ring with repeating shot guns, if they had heard the bombardment that was in progress all day Sunday."

"As early as 4 o'clock yesterday, morning the nimrods, equipped with receipts instead of hunting licenses (for the blanks gave out at the two justice of the peace offices in the District) 30-20's, Kraggs, old fashioned Springfields, Mausers, Winchesters, and, of course, a large number of shot guns, were on their way into the four winds. Some west, some south, some east and a few north. Some on foot, some on horses and more by gasoline."

"I thought I was one of the very first to get out. On the way to Hereford I was unpleasantly undeceived. I passed many automobiles, the women folks in the car and friend husband, or the plural, out in the brush somewhere mistaking a poor, unthinking white wing or a dove for a real, Honest-to-Goodness quail, and giving him a treat of what the Somme must be."

"Our party went out past Hereford. We thought, surely, that the hunters would thin out by the time we reached the river. But didn't. Peculiar thing about the modern hunter and his buzz-wagon. He just keeps on going."

"Honestly, there were so many people out hunting yesterday that, once, when I got a good wing shot at a bunch of quail which rose from the brush over my head and when I dropped him I ran into three other Bisbeettes when I reached the bird. I claimed him, so did Smith and Brown and Jones. We argued the matter over, each claiming for himself the greatest ability as a wing shot. Finally Smith, having half dollar on his person matched the rest for the quail and got it. I don't know yet whether he cheated."

"After that I returned to the machine and decided that discretion was the better part of valor and came back to Bisbee."

"It's great sport if you don't weaken."

GETS SIXTY DAYS.

Felix Hernandez, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Harry Rafferty in Lowell and charged with shop-lifting, was tried before Justice of the Peace G. W. Totman yesterday and sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

IN POLICE COURT.

Nine cases were the total in police court yesterday, being the accumulation of the week end in the city. Two speeders paid fines, two fighters were tried, one of whom paid and the other decided to contest the case and the balance were plain drunks. The soldiers from Naco enlivened Saturday and Sunday nights and trouble was only prevented by the presence of a large provost guard.

AN INTERESTING BET.

To show the trend of public opinion in Bisbee it is only necessary to point to a bet that was posted yesterday at a local business house. One man bet $20 to $10 that Wilson would be re-elected over Hughes. Some time ago the odds were in favor of the Republican candidate but it now appears that the feeling is swiftly changing in the other direction.

He was taken to the Copper Queen hospital Saturday morning suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia. Charles L. Hardy, father of the sick man, and collector of customs for the Arizona border, and Charles E. Hardy, brother, arrived in the city Sunday morning and have been constantly at his bedside. Charles E. Hardy is accompanied by his wife from the Santa Cruz county seat.

BISBEE CLUB MEETS.

The Fellowship Bible Study Club, at the Y. M. C. A., under the leadership of Dr. H. S. Brewster, met Sunday afternoon and Mr. Brewster was greeted by a large crowd of interested men. Secretary Richardson announced the election of officers of the club: C. E. Livingstone, president; Henry Alken, vice president; Clarence M. Buck, secretary and T. A. Peterson, assistant secretary. Following the election of officers, Mr. Brewster gave a short address on Biblical inspiration, which was mighty interesting and was well received by the large group of men present.

BOWLING TOURNEY ON.

The Bowling Tournament at the Y. M. C. A. has reached the stage when the games are very exciting. On last evening the professional men were bowling the Copper Queen team and when the Queen team had finished their bowling the score appeared to be in their favor by one point, 2222 to 2221, but one of the professional men came in from the Night School where he had been teaching and bowled his three games against one of the assayers and proceeded to boost the professional men's score to 2279, which made one more win for that team.

HUNDREDS HUNT QUAIL.

Out of the hundreds of sportsmen who went gunning Sunday, the opening day of the season for the feathered game, few indeed came near bagging their limit. Reports are that the birds were either mighty scarce or as wild as March hares. One of the luckiest parties was composed of E. A. Crocker, A. Robinson, Joe Chapman, George Miner and Red Gohring, who went out along the Courtland road. They bagged something like forty quail and twenty or more cotton tails. One man was reported to have brought in an altered specimen from the Huachuacs, but his name could not be learned last night.
